

Call for Presentation Submissions

NASSTRAC provides advocacy, education, provider relationships, and professional networking for today's supply chain professional.

NASSTRAC regularly receives requests from qualified presenters regarding opportunities to make presentations on critical topics in transportation management and operations, logistics technology, and global supply chain management.

Being a presenter at a NASSTRAC event is an excellent opportunity for you to share your knowledge and expertise, and to position you and your organization as a leader in transportation, logistics, and/or supply chain management.

For a full calendar of NASSTRAC events, visit www.NASSTRAC.org. If you're interested in presenting during an upcoming NASSTRAC event, please complete this submission form and forward for consideration (fax: 952-442-3941 or Brian@NASSTRAC.org). You will be notified in writing if your submission is accepted.
